KENTUCKY IDEA IN FAVOR

KEEN INTEREST DISPLAYED IN WORKINGS OF RACING COMMISSION PLAN.

Secretary Bidwell of Kentucky Governing Body
Busily Engaged in Disseminating Information of Its Operations in Other States.

Lexington, Ky., March 2.—Secretary W. E. Bidwell, of the Kentucky State Racing Commission, who has been in constant communication during the past two months with breeders and horsemen in various states and who is in close touch with the progress of efforts to restore racing in localities where adverse conditions have been prevailing, finds that breeders of thoroughbreds here are greatly pleased by the reports that favorable racing legislation is a near prospect in some of the states.

Secretary Bidwell has sent a great deal of literature bearing upon the operation of the Kentucky law to a dozen or more states and is at present in almost daily communication with the Business Men's League of Hot Springs and members of the Arkansas Legislature, and he believes that before the latter body adjourns in May, the state of Arkansas will enact legislation reviving racing at Hot Springs and making the Vapor City the home of the sport next winter.

Secretary Bidwell believes that Kentucky is blazing the way with its State Racing Commission for a general revival of racing in states where it is now under the ban owing to former mismanagement. He asserts that other states are looking upon Kentucky's commission, with the splendid men who compose it, as a model for the fashioning of bodies to bring about a general uplifting of the sport.

Mr. Bidwell has had printed and is mailing throughout the country several thousand copies of the report made to the Kentucky State Racing Commission by President Charles E. Grainger, of the New Louisville Jockey Club, who, as a member of the commission, served as steward at the spring meeting in 1908. It is a forceful argument in favor of the pari-mutuel system of betting, and sets forth clearly the elimination of objectionable features in connection with racing.

TAMPA JOCKEY IS RULED OFF.

Judge Burke Takes Action Before Rider Dismounts From Bethlehem at Florida Track.

Tampa, Fla., March 2.—Jockey F. Lewis was ruled off the turf for life by Judge Burke following that rider's apparent lack of effort on Bethlehem in the fourth race today. So badly did the rider restrain the horse that the judge pronounced the ruling long before Lewis had unsaddled. Bethlehem was regarded as much the best of the starters. Surprises were frequent, marked improvement in form being shown by several of the winners. Donald's victory left a favor and occasioned much comment. Jockey D. Murphy contributed to a great extent towards Donald's victory by interfering with most of the contenders just after the start. The judges suspended him for six racing days for this and the starter also gave him two days for disobedience at the post.

Lord Wells, backed as a good thing in the fifth, landed the purse by a small margin from Rose McGee. The latter was claimed for $410 by John Bryan, who was represented in the race by New Star, purchased prior to the race from J. A. Strode.

Jockeys Hoffman, McCarthy and Holmes were each suspended for two days by the starter for disobedience at the post.

There were no developments in the matter of racing time here, but it is generally understood that unless conditions improve materially next week there will be no extension. There is some talk of a short meeting at Savannah, Ga., but no one is taking the plan seriously.

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT WAKING UP.

Following the announcement that the British Board of Agriculture had set aside a grant of $200,000 for the breeding of cavalry remounts by use of thoroughbred sires, the United States Government has also shown signs of life.

The chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington, in his report just issued, outlines a system of producing remounts and asks that the sum of $250,000 be set aside at once and $100,000 per year arranged for to keep up the work. With this amount of money it is thought that 100 sires can be stationed as follows, to mate with suitable mares:

Maine and New Hampshire, ten sires.
Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana and Ohio, fifty sires.
Missouri and Texas, fifteen sires.
Montana, Washington, Oregon and California, twenty-five sires.

This plan has been devised after joint consideration of the subject by representatives of the Department of Agriculture and the War Department, at the instance of the Secretary of War. It is accompanied by a statement setting forth the reasons why the War Department regards it as imperative for the government to encourage the breeding of horses for the army.

This report shows that the United States has a remount problem the same as England. Although there are 23,000,000 horses of all kinds in the United States, sufficient cannot be secured for cavalry purposes because the correct type is not being produced. The American trotter and the grade sire have done their work.

"European countries," says this report, "long ago found it was not only advisable but necessary to supervise the breeding of army horses, and every European country, with the exception of England, has for years been encouraging the breeding of the proper type of remount England, one of the most important horse countries in the world, has for many reasons only recently been forced to take this step. It is interesting to note that practically the same conditions confront England that confront this country at the present time, and almost identical steps are contemplated in the two Anglo-Saxon countries to accomplish the same result—suitable army horses in sufficient number.

"The horses of our mounted branches are severely criticised by representatives of foreign armies, while from our own officers some reports of poor animals and poor performances."

The Canadian Bureau several years ago formulated the broad policy that Canada should reach a condition in horse breeding which would insure an adequate supply of remounts in time of war. The United States are alive to this phase of the work.

"No system of supply," says the report, "is complete, so far as the army is concerned, which deals with peace conditions alone. The War Department must constantly keep in mind the possibilities of war, and it is not surprising that, finding difficulty in purchasing a supply of remounts for the peace army, there should be more or less uneasiness when war requirements are considered. The waste of horseflesh in war times is enormous, and in a war of any magnitude in which this country might be engaged, the number of horses required will not be confined to the thousands per year, but will extend into the hundreds of thousands."

JUVENILE WINNERS OF 1911

As a result of the racing of the first two months of 1911, the get of the Texas stallion, Abe Frank, stand first among the successful juveniles of the year, not only in respect to the number of winners, but in the item of winnings, both individually and collectively. Closer is the leading two-year-old winner of the year to date, with Calisse second. Both of these are by Abe Frank and have been racing with distinction at Juarez. Abe Frank's chief rival for the leadership among the sires of juvenile winners is L. H. Wheatcroft's Cesarion, the leader of 1910. Cesarion has furnished five two-year-old winners so far this year, as against six to the credit of Abe Frank and his get have won more money in the aggregate than the representatives of any other stallion except Abe Frank. The Oklahoma stallion, Martinet, with four winning representatives and Nasurtium, with three come next in order. The records of the juvenile winners of 1911, grouped under their respective sires, covering the first two months of the year, are given in the subjoined tabulation:

This statement will be fully appreciated by those who have the lesson of the South African war before them. That war swallowed up over half a million horses, and it was no new lesson, for war was just as destructive on horses a hundred years ago.

When the French crossed the Neiman in June 1812, they had 127,121 horses. When they recrossed the Neiman in December of the same year they had 1,600 horses left. During the year ending June 30, 1864, the United States Federal Government purchased 188,718 horses to keep the forces up to mobilization strength. This, therefore, was the

The loss was about 500 horses per day.

From these figures it will readily be seen that there is a vast difference between peace and war requirements. The recent grant given to English and Irish breeders has for its object only the peace supply, and does not solve the mobilization problem.

France, Germany and Austro-Hungary have famous bureaus. They have been engaged in the work for a long time and have spent millions of dollars. The French government, for instance, spends about $2,500,000 per year. According to the annual report of the Director of National Haras of the French government, in a single day, on the Calvados $138,900 was given in special grants to owners of Bureau yearlings in 1909.

Crossing the Rhine, one finds that Germany has a perfect Bureau, with a crop of 25,000 foals per year. The great haras at Bebebeck, at Newstadt, Dusseldorf and Hamburg are wonderfully complete. There are also the Imperial Studs at Berlin and Potsdam.

with perfectly mounted dragoons, cuirassiers and hussars.

The breeding of horses in Germany is principally important from a national defense point of view. The Germans desire a horse of modern warfare and with marvelous patience and indomitable tenacity, and have succeeded in getting it. In Lithuania they started with the thoroughbred and then selected his sons and grandsons, sending them all over Germany. In selecting these sires they considered soundness, ability to carry weight and general cavalry qualities. As a result Germany is well supplied with cavalry horses and the German system is worthy of strict attention. German cavalry horses are complete from every point of view and able to answer all the requirements of modern tactics and field service. This is precisely what the Canadian Bureau has been aiming at for several years, and the success of Germany proves that Canada is on the right track. January bulletin of Canadian Breeding Bureau.

DUGAN TO RIDE FOR BELMONT.

JUDGES DISQUALIFY CAMEL

M'CARREN RACER LOSES PURSE AFTER FINISHING FIRST AT MONCIEF PARK.

Swerving in Final Strides Held to Have Impeded Other Contestants and Offending Horse Is Placed Last—Californians Arrive.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 2.—One of the few disqualifications of the long winter meeting at Moncief came with the running of the closing race this afternoon when H. McCarren's Camel was set back for swerving in the final twenty yards and carrying Dress Parade II. out with him. Only one other horse had been disqualified here this winter, Prince-like, and McTaggart, who rode Camel today, also had the mount on that horse. Camel was one of the heavily backed choices. He was outrun in the early stages by Bodkin and Dress Parade II., but was fortunate in squeezing through along the rail in entering the homestretch. He caught the leaders at the furlong post and in the final drive outgamed Dress Parade II. When Camel bore out at the end, Discontent closed stoutly in the center of the track and Dress Parade II. was caught between the pair. In the last few strides Gross was forced to pull up and his claim of foul against Camel was allowed by the judges and the offending horse was placed last. The chant gave first money to Discontent, second to Dress Parade II. and third to Detect.

There were two run-ups during the afternoon. Amoret was boosted $200 by W. E. Suggs, but was protected and bought in by her owner. Spindle was also advanced after his victory. Sam Louis carried him from $300 to $900 and secured him at the latter figure.

Jockeys Byrne and Loftus each piloted two winners, the former having the mount on The Nigger and Spindle, while Byrne's success was scored in the first two races.

A. F. Dayton and Tom Hatfield arrived from Tampa with their horses this morning. Jockey Wingfield came with the Hatfield stable.

James Donohue, Joe Blume, Joe Hayman, John Isaacs and Benny Meyers were among a large delegation that arrived from California this morning. George Batine, the auctioneer who will dispose of the Pons and Chinn horses on Saturday, arrived tonight.

Jockeys McTaggart and J. Wilson were suspended for a week by the judges. Wilson earned his suspension for rough riding in the second race and McTaggart for the same offense in the closing dash.

The second race tomorrow is exclusively for owners whose horses have not won a race since the opening of the Moncief meeting.

CLAMOR DIES IN THE WEST.

The report comes from California that Clamor, winner of the Waterhouse Cup at Oakland in 1909, recently died of lung fever contracted while on route from Oakland to the home of his owner, C. B. Clow, of Salt Lake City. The year before his Waterhouse Cup success, Clamor had finished second to Montgomery in the famous Burns Handicap, the premier event of Pacific coast racing. He went wrong after his Waterhouse Cup victory and was sold by Keene Bros., in whose colors he had been racing, to Mr. Clow. The record of the horse's achievements follows:

MINNOLETTE was, as usual, far back in the early running, but finished fast and resolutely. BALELLA showed much early speed, but tired somewhat in the stretch drive. MILPITAS showed the most early speed, but quit badly after setting the pace to the stretch. REDLASS ran fairly well. JOE WOODS was always outpaced.

Winner—Br. c. by Sain—Sister Josephine (trained by W. Whalen).
 Went to post at 3:37. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won driving; second and third the same. VREELAND ran close up behind the pacemakers under strong restraint, then made a fast stretch effort and got up to win in the final drive. ENFIELD was outpaced in the early running, finished with a rush and would have won in another stride or two. HELMET showed much speed early, raced AL MULLER into defeat, possibly injuring his own chances. JIM BASEY was sharply cut off at the half-mile ground, but recovered gradually and was running fast at the end. AL MULLER quit badly after showing great speed for a half mile.
 Overweights—Helmet, 1 pound; Al Muller, 1.
